To our friends and colleagues at WBPARG,

As President of the Fair Lawn Amateur Radio Club, let me extend a warm welcome to you as we begin what we both hope will be a successful partnership in making new friends, growing our clubs, and further helping amateur radio to succeed. Your letter to us could not have expressed better our reasons for enquiring about a potential partnership.

Thanks as well for your warm and open invitation to visit your club in South Florida. We extend a similar invitation for you to join us here. Certainly, using technology such as Echolink, Zoom and (let us not forget) radio, we can bring both clubs closer together and quickly become extended families.

FLARC is an active club that likes to do things. We have grown from about seventy members in 2015 to nearly two hundred today. While we feel we have been successful, there are issues that we face that are no different than all amateur radio clubs – promoting amateur radio in our communities, finding, and retaining new members while keeping them engaged. We hope that this experiment will enable us to learn from each and help to address these issues so that we can both benefit as a result.

While, as you have said, having fun!

Let us get started! I know that we have already begin a dialogue that will only increase in size, volume, and ideas in the months ahead. We are most excited about our work with the WBPARG and look forward to discussing next steps soon!

73,
